Instructional Modeling Tools Kits from Step By Step Learning®

The Step By Step Learning® Instructional Modeling Tool Kits are designed to support the development of effective teachers. A total of three kits – Phonology kit, Decoding kit and Advanced Decoding kit – complete with materials for small group instruction enable teachers to teach phoneme awareness and early to advanced word identification skills in small-group sessions. These kits are ideal for Response to Intervention small group instruction for Pre-K through third grade.

Carefully scripted lessons, which can supplement any reading program, provide a means for learning how to explicitly and systematically teach the most basic, yet important, early reading skills so that every child learns to read. When combined with professional development that is based on reliable research, the Step By Step Learning® Instructional Modeling Tool Kits bring to life the knowledge of how students actually learn to read and make effective teaching and learning a reality.
